Off on another adventure! This time, I have just climbed 16 steps leading to a wonderful tomb that was buried for centuries beneath the desert sands. This tomb, found in the Valley of the Kings, was made for a teenage king. Although there were many mummies buried in this area, no womens' remains have been found. Maybe that's why it's called the Valley of the Kings? When the tomb was discovered in 1922 by archaeologist Howard Carter, it was still untouched. Gold treasures were everywhere. More than 500 objects were found -- including jewelry, boats, chariots, 100 baskets of food, and even the king's underwear! It took ten years to photograph, label, and remove all the treasures from the tomb. The body of the king was also found.

Can you name this king and the country that I am visiting?
